

The Land of New Beginnings

Like the rising sun, America was being formed
In a settlement, just inside the eastern shore.
Jamestown was the answer, and it would see us through
To build a strong foundation, laid for me and you.

It's Virginia,
The land of new beginnings,
It's Virginia,
Old Dominion going strong
It's Virginia,
The pathway to tomorrow
It's Virginia,
And it's right where I belong.

The crashing waves, and the mountains take your breath away.
And everything between, starry nights and glorious days.
The birthplace of our presidents, the constitution penned
The history is deep within, but the future never ends!
